Artillery Put Up a Good Game on Saturday.

SCORED AGAINST MAILE ILIMAS

Kaahumanuities Won the Game But Know That They Had Been Playing.

The Maile Ilima football team closed their season last Saturday with a game against the Artillery at Punahou. About 800 spectators were present. The game which was very interesting, clean and well contested resulted in a win for the Mailes by the score of 16 to 10.

It was anticipated that the Mailes would run up an overwhelming score against their opponents but such proved not to be the case. The Artillery men started off in tame style and it was not long before the Mailes had scored a touchdown. Then the Artillery equalized making the score 6 to 5 in their opponents' favor. The Artillery by a surprising exhibition of strength again swept their opponents down the field and scored for the second time, the score at half time being Artillery 10, Mailes 6.

Bennett at right half back was mainly responsible for the Artillery's good showing in the first half, his plunges through the line being the feature of that section of the game. He was made too much use of however and had to leave the field early in the second half. The effect of his withdrawal on the team was surprising and as soon as he went out of the game the Mailes commenced to make gains which culminated in a touchdown and goal. They were on the Artillery's 3-yard line when the whistle blew with the score standing Mailes 16, Artillery 10. Fred Wright practically won the game for his side.

The Maile Ilimas were without the services of Prince Cupid, Long and Richardson, and the absence of the trio was much felt. Of the new men who were given a chance to distinguish themselves, McCriston and Sheldon acquitted themselves creditably.

The Artillery furnished a surprise party to their opponents and at one time looked to have them beaten. When the game started the odds were 5 to 1 against the soldiers and at half time it was a case of even money and take your choice. In the first half the winners played as if over confident and the Artillerymen tore through their line again and again. The Mailes playing high instead of low seemed unable to check their progress. To use a sporting colloquialism the soldiers had them going. In the second period the reverse was the case and the Mailes by fierce and desperate playing turned the tide of defeat into one of victory. The Artillery is the only team that has scored against the Maile Ilimas this year.

Both teams played a gentlemanly game and Empire Wise's task was a pleasant one. There was only one penalty inflicted throughout the game and that for off-side play. Shortly before the game started the soldiers in the crowd unfurled a large American flag. The Mailes as usual displayed their unique green and gold banner.

The Artillery team was strengthened since its game with the Punahous by the substitution of Printz for Gladling at left end. The Punahou Athletic Club rolled up its 36 to 9 score against the Artillery round this end.

The Artillery kicked off from the south end of the field and the ball was brought back to the Mailes' 20-yard line. A few profitable plays took the ball to the Artillery's 25-yard line, and Johnson carried it thence to the 10-yard line. F. Wright made a touchdown, and McCriston kicked goal. Mailes 6, Artillery 9.

From the kick the ball was taken back to the Mailes' 25-yard line. Johnson against the center of the field. The Artillery obtained possession on a fumble. Beehr ran to the Mailes 45-yard line and the Artillery, forcing the game, gained in successive plays the 37, 34, 37, 32, 27, 21, 13, 10, 8, 6 and 1-yard lines. Hootor made a touchdown, but no goal materialized. Mailes 6, Artillery 5.

Bennett did the lion's share of the work attendant on the touchdown. His line plunging was remarkable. The Mailes seemed powerless to resist the rushes of the soldiers, who made all their gains through the line.

W. Wright took the kick and the ball was downed on the Artillery's 40-yard line. A play or two took it to the 47-yard line, when an off-side penalty gave the military the benefit of 10 yards. By vigorous playing, in which Bennett was the principal actor, the 41, 35, 33 and 30 and 20-yard lines were assaulted and carried. Printz ran round the end for 11 yards and was beautifully tackled by Fred Wright. Bucking tactics were then resumed and the 37, 15, 12, 9, 5, 3 and 2-yard lines were successively invaded. Bennett just managed to squeeze the ball over the line for a touchdown. Hootor failed to kick goal. Artillery 10, Mailes 6.

McCriston kicked off badly, and the ball was arrested on the Artillery's 44-yard line. On the 48-yard line the Mailes got the ball, and immediately commenced to gain ground. Ben Clark took the ball on the 38-yard line, and ran 10-yards with it. Half time score: Artillery 10, Mailes 6.

W. Wright kicked off and the ball was brought back to 30 yards and taken thence to the 31, 35, 38, 41 and 40-yard lines. Mailes got the ball and went to 34 yards. Johnson thence to 15 yards. On the 12-yard line F. Wright ran round the end and secured a touchdown. W. Wright missed the goal. Mailes 11, Artillery 10.

The ball was brought back to the 34-yard line from the kick. Fred Wright ran to 44 yards and Bennett sustained an injury which put him out of the game. F. Wright was responsible for the transit of the leather to the middle of the field, and soon after the Artillery's 40, 36 and 31-yard lines were gained. Artillery got the ball on a fumble and punt to the Mailes' 40-yard line. The Mailes came with a rush, and were soon in their opponents' territory. The ball went to the 35, 33, 24, 23, 18, 11, 8, 4, 2 and 1-yard lines, and Johnson negotiated a touchdown. W. Wright failed at a goal. Mailes 16, Artillery 10.

The ball came back from the kick to 31 yards and thence to the 36, 43, 41 and 38-yard lines. F. Wright made a run to the Artillery's limit line, and the ball travelled rapidly to the 51, 40, 33, 22, 28, 24, 22, 20, 17, 5 and 3-yard lines. F. Wright and Johnson were the principal ground gainers.

With the ball on the Artillery's 3-yard line, third down, "time" was signalled, and the game ended. Mailes 16, Artillery 10.

Clark's playing was remarkably good throughout the game, and he is perhaps the best quarterback in Honolulu.

THE MYRTLE CLUB BENEFIT TONIGHT

Almost Every Seat in Opera House Sold—Wear Your Colors.

The Myrtle Boat Club benefit takes place tonight at the opera house, where the Neil company will present Nancy & Company, one of the cleanest comedy hits of their repertoire. Governor Dole and party will occupy one of the boxes, while a number of theater parties have been made up for the body of the house.

Fred Church, "Jack" Atkinson, James Dougherty, Sam Walker and a number of other prominent Heanani clubmen, have taken one of the lower boxes, and will have it decorated very artistically. In blue, of course. They have promised not to make too much noise during the performance.

One thing must be observed by all Myrtle members. The committee in charge has issued the mandate that the red club neckties be worn tonight with evening dress, and a similar invitation is given the Heanani members and sympathizers. Color ties are a little unusual for evening dress, but the occasion is also unusual, and color counts tonight.

The sale of tickets has been exceedingly good, and there was no opportunity on Saturday to obtain seats in a better location than the third row from the back. However, there are seats in the gallery, which are just as good as a benefit night as those in the dress circle and parquet, and standing room is also unlimited for the bachelors, who rarely object to standing where they can be seen.

Fred Angus and Harry Wilder are looking out for the Myrtle side of the decorations, and they promise enough red backgrounds to make the blue "go" way back and sit down" for want of space. The ushers, door keepers and other attendants will be Myrtle boys, who are to wear their red club coats. Everyone attending the theater should wear one color or the other, just by way of variation.

The cause for which the benefit is given is a most worthy one. The Myrtle club is almost the pioneer boating organization in Honolulu, and by reason of the commercial progress which has called for the expansion of the shipping facilities of the harbor, the club has been compelled to vacate its present location, to make room for new wharves. The expense of moving the old clubhouse to the U. S. Quarantine wharf, will be great, and the club is being taxed to its utmost to provide the money for this purpose. The proceeds from the benefit will do much to swell the fund, if the public will take hold of the affair generously.

On November 16th the German bark Paul Isenberg passed Dungeness on her way from Bremen to this port.

SUGAR SOLVES THE LIQUOR PROBLEM

Chaplain Elkins of Kamehameha School Speaks at the Y. M. C. A.

W. B. Elkins, chaplain at Kamehameha School, addressed the four o'clock meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday on "The Liquor Problem." He is of the opinion that the liquor habit is decreasing, and that the use of sugar is responsible for the increasing abstinence of the American people.

"The drink problem is as old as civilization," he said. "It is a most complex question and has many different aspects. I will consider but two, the physiological and the sociological aspects; the effect of liquor upon the individual, the body, and its effect upon society, or the community."

"It is a common saying that alcohol is a poison, when taken in large quantities. It is the same in small quantities. It paralyzes the nervous system, first the brain, then the spinal column."

"At a social gathering we feel better after taking a stimulant, we talk better and become jollier. This is really due to the paralysis of part of the brain, the upper part, where lies our education and civilization. When we drink the upper lobe of the brain is paralyzed; it removes our education and civilization and reduces us to an animal state. If drinking continues the lower part of the brain also becomes paralyzed, the face becomes flushed, the paralysis extends to our arms and hands, if drinking still continues the entire nervous system is affected."

"Now as to the sociological aspect. There is a much stronger sentiment against the use of alcohol now, than there was a century or two ago. There is more danger now than then. The food of people has changed, where formerly a wheat and bread diet was generally used, now people are given to the sugar diet. Sugar has grown cheaper and more plentiful, there has been the greatest change in the history of the people. Sugar and liquor do not agree. In Cuba it is generally said that either sugar or liquor must be abandoned. The use of sugar and its compounds is constantly increasing, and the alcohol habit suffers in consequence."

Mr. Elkins also referred to the change in the mode of living. Where formerly only four per cent of the people lived in the city, now there are forty per cent. Life in the country gave the man who used liquor a chance to recover from its effects, but the confinement of the city and the office, does not allow the same opportunity.

Formerly the man who lived in the country had to work hard, but now in the city where machinery does the greater part of labor, he has no opportunity to recover from the evil effects of liquor. Where before there were many individuals in business who could go off on a spree for a couple of days, without anyone having anything to say, now there is organized industry, and the loss of a man is like the breaking of a wheel. If a man misses his work now to go on a spree, when he returns he finds some one has taken his place, and new positions are not easy to find now.

The speaker closed by saying that nature would solve the drink problem eventually; that sugar is becoming cheaper and more widely cultivated; industry is becoming better and better organized, and the end of the liquor question is in sight. Those worn out by drink are being put in the almshouses and insane asylums, are being weeded out from the sober community. The Y. M. C. A. could help solve the problem, so the speaker said, by helping to remove temptations from the path of the weak, to control the liquor traffic, and let those people that can not be controlled be cut off by nature, as in due course of time they will.

At the Orpheum.

There was a big crowd at the vaudeville house on Saturday evening to witness the end of the week program. Hogan and the roller skate artist proved the chief attractions. Wise and Milton won the cake walk for the third night in succession. The boisterous parody on the football game suited the spirits of the audience. Hogan is busy with a big local production, in which the scenes are laid at the Moana Hotel, the Hawaiian Hotel and Waikiki beach. This is to be a battle with localisms and will go on the boards in a few nights. There will be certain changes in the bill tonight.

A. M. WILSON'S DISCOVERY.

Fish Sent to President Jordan Proves to Be a New Species.

A. M. Wilson of Waialakea some time ago discovered a fish which to him had an appearance of value, and which was unknown to the fishermen, and which was also a stranger on the Hilo bills of fare. He forwarded the specimen to David Starr Jordan at Stanford University, and soon thereafter received the following reply:

Office of the President, Stanford University, Cal.

Mr. A. M. Wilson, Hilo, Hawaii:

Dear Sir:—The little fish proves to be a sea-horse of the genus Hippocampus. The species is apparently new to science, and it will make a very desirable addition to our stock of fishes, as we did not find it. I shall probably have the little fish figured in our report.

Very truly yours,

DAVID JORDAN.

Several months ago David Starr Jordan, with members of the United States Fish Commission, visited Hilo and Honolulu, and gathered many specimens of new and old Hawaiian fishes. The official report of the Commission, which will contain Mr. Wilson's sea-horse, will be a notable contribution to piscatorial science.—Hilo Tribune.

The band will probably give a concert on board the transport Rosecrans either today or tomorrow.
